Flood That Came from Mountains,

Youngsters bent on mischief caused a flood yesterday afternoon at Eighth South and Olive street that for a time South and Olive street that for a time hade fair to inundate the entire neighborhood. They roiled a barrel into a stream, which became lodged in the flume, and soon a volume of water was alarming to the 30 or 30 residents on that thereaghfare. The nature of the obstruction could not be determined for some time, and it was removed with much difficulty. Although the flood season is by ne means at hand, the flume is carrying all the water it will hold. In grading for sidewalks, the embankment has been torn away, leaving the vicinity in a dangerous condition when once the snow in the mountains begins to melt. The situation was brought to the attention of Supervisor of Streets Raleigh, and he immediately gave instructions to have the bank replaced. Upon being told of the flood yesterday by phone, Mr. Raleigh swore several octaves higher than the rules of the telephone company will admit, and rang off to call up his man who was supposed to have done the repairing. That individual, accompanied by a helper, ampeared upon the scene shortly after the barrel had been removed, and expressed wonder that the water had cypressed to have the cy bade fair to inundate the entire neigh

Judge Marshall Settles Litigation Against Estate Which Has Dragged for Seven Years,

NEARLY $1.000.000 INVOLVED.

History of Case Began Thirty Years Ago With the Death of William Montague, Ferry.

In the federal court yesterday, Judge John A. Marshall sustained the denurrer of the representatives of the estate of Edward P. Ferry in the suit of the Michigan Trust company for the sum of $100,000 and interest for a period of nearly 30 years, making n all the sum of approximately $1,000,000.

Providing that the trust company does not appeal the case to the United States circuit court of appeals, this decision will settle the litigation against this estate, which has dragged along for the last seven years. The history of the case begins at the death of William Montague Ferry, about 30 years ago. He was a ploneer h Michigan and a missionary among the Indians. Seizing the opportunities that presented themselves in a busithat presented themselves in a business way, Mr. Ferry became wealthy. On his death, Edward P. Ferry, his son, father of W. Mont Ferry and E. S. Ferry of Sait Lake City, was appointed executor of the estate. He paid all the legacies of the deceased, William M. Perry, and there was a residue estate of $100,000. It was over this sum and interest that the present dispute has been waged, owing to the fact that the records of the probate court of Grand Rapids do not show a final settlement of this residuary estate.

AUTHORIZED TO PAY DEBTS. The executor, Edward P. Ferry, payments of his brother's debts, and that he was authorized to do so by written assignments of the heirs and that the records of a court in equity show this fact, though the payment is not recorded in the probate court. The suit was started about 7 years ago by the descendants of the daughters of William Montague Ferry, who left the bequests. About 15 months ago the probate court at Grand Rapids gave judgment to the Michigan Trust company, representing the heirs, in the sum of approximately $1,000,000, against the estate of Edward P. Ferry of this city. Suit in this judgment was of this city, Sult in this judgment was filed against the estate in Utah as there was no property left in Michi-
